CSNOG 2024

The Czech and Slovak Network Operators Group meeting is one of a community nature, which makes it really different from similar events, especially commercial ones.

The aim of this two-day meeting is to connect experts from the field of Internet networks, enable them to exchange experience, discuss the current Internet issues and share solutions leading to the development of Internet networks in the Czech Republic and Slovakia.

The program of the meeting is conceived as a series of lectures, which are selected from the submitted abstracts by a committee composed of the community members.

Whom the event is for

CSNOG can offer topics for representatives of ISPs, network operators, Internet engineers and those interested in the Internet and network technology.
